PROCEEDINGS OF THE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR CRYSTAL GROWTH AT TOYKO March 1974

The IOCG Council met on 26th March and a General Assembly took place on 27th March

I. At these meetings it was reported or determined:

- 1.1. That the Constitution of IOCG (appended herewith) had been submitted to mail ballot and adopted, by 476 votes in favour to 6 against.
- 1.2. That Regional Associations for Crystal Growth had been formed in Czechoslovakia and in Italy and had been accepted by Council as members of the IOCG. It was further reported that negotiations were in progress for adherence to the IOCG of appropriate Crystal Growth Associations in Hungary and in the U.S.S.R.
- 1.3. That by decision of the Executive Committee and Council the invitation of the American Association for Crystal Growth had been accepted, to hold ICCG-5 in Boston, Mass., U.S.A. during the week July 18-22, 1977. - 1.5. That by unanimous vote of the Council, the Executive Committee will seek to obtain for the IOCG the status of an Associated Organization, equally associated with the three international Unions, of Crystallography, of Pure and Applied Chemistry, and of Pure and Applied Physics. It is anticipated that this will give rise to only a single change in the Constitution of IOCG, namely the need to create a fourth class of Council Members, one each to be nominated by the three International Unions. The mail ballot required for the consequent amendment to the Constitution would thus constitute the definitive step by which members would give their assent to this action.
2. The Treasurer's report on the financial accounts of IOCG (appended herewith) was accepted.
3. Council received a suggestion from Professor E. Kaldis that IOCG might maintain a library of films relating to Crystal Growth. The Executive Committee has invited the Swiss Association for Crystal Growth to investigate the practical factors and cost involved in this proposal. The President announced that at present one formal invitation for the location of ICCG-6, 1980, namely from Poland, has been received, but other proposals have been informally indicated. He explained that in accordance with the Constitution, the Executive Committee chooses from among the invitations received from prospective host countries, its choice being subject to confirmation of the Council.

In making its choice, the matters the Executive Committee has to take into account include: A proper sequence of geographical locations, for the convenience, over a period of time, of all its Regional Associations;

The available Conference facilities, residential facilities, and facilities for the preparation of the Conference Report by an international editorial group, who need to do their work at the location of the Conference for a minimum of three weeks before its opening; The assurance of the granting of visas and unimpeded travel to the Conference for all members without discrimination of any kind.

It will be helpful to the Executive Committee if invitations are received with as much information as possible on these matters.
